Lost Children of Uganda

Lost Children of Uganda is a photo essay highlight the issues of child trafficking. My research on this topic has led me to the conclusion that child trafficking is a result of a lack of knowledge. Many people have been lured into the trade by promises of a better life for their children. Some have been tricked into the trade by people they trust. Others have been forced into the trade by poverty and other major problems that they face. The lack of knowledge is the root cause of the problem. Many people are not aware of the dangers associated with the trade. Many people are not aware of the consequences of their actions. Many people are not aware of the dangers associated with the trade.

Child trafficking is a problem that affects all parts of Uganda. Children are being trafficked from the north, east, west and central regions of Uganda to Kampala and Nigeria. The lack of knowledge is the root of the problem. Many people are not aware of the dangers associated with the trade. Many people are not aware of the consequences of their actions.
